

'DESERTED WIFE' OF OLIVER TESTIFIES

Rae Tanzer Again Hysterical at Trial for Perjury in Osborne Case.

FORCES ADJOURNMENT

Rae Tanzer became hysterical yesterday for the second time in her trial on a charge of perjury in having identified James W. Osborne as Oliver Osborne. Benjamin Slade, her counsel, had asked a court adjourn for a few minutes before 1 o'clock to enable him to catch a train and Judge Wolverton had refused the request. Mrs. Ethel Brooks Nye, a deserted wife of Oliver Osborne by her own story, was under cross-examination by Mr. Slade.

Suddenly Rae Tanzer slumped forward and began to sob. Two women who have been in constant attendance on her since her hysterical fit earlier in the trial had a deputy marshal carry her to a couch at the side of the Judge's bench. Mr. Slade refused to continue the cross-examination because of his client's condition. Judge Wolverton directed that it go on.

Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, associated with Slade in the conduct of the defense, declined to continue the cross-examination. He moved that a juror be withdrawn, but this the court refused. Since both Mr. Chanler and Mr. Slade refused to continue while Rae Tanzer was unable to follow the testimony, the Judge dismissed the jury for the day. After the adjournment the young woman revived gradually.

Mrs. Nye testified that she was married to Oliver Osborne in the parsonage of a Dutch Reformed church in Hoboken. She said he married her under the name of Male Mason Nye. Mrs. Nye wore a heavy brown veil, which Mr. Slade could not induce her to raise.

"If you don't answer that question for the defense to handle, she refused at the outset to tell where she was employed. The persuasions of the prosecutor, William Hand, Jr., and the denunciation of Slade were equally unavailing. Finally she said she was employed by the Brush Electric Company, but refused to give the address.

"If you don't answer that question I'll have you put in jail," remarked Judge Wolverton. Mrs. Nye said she didn't care. At length she was permitted to whisper the address to a deputy marshal. Then Mr. Slade wanted her to whisper it to him. Mr. Slade thought she should confide in him first, and there was another dispute between counsel.

"This is the worst farce of a trial ever heard in court," Slade exclaimed. "Take your seat," said Judge Wolverton sharply. "Yes, sir, and I'll keep it," replied the lawyer. There was a lull of several minutes, but eventually he went on with the cross-examination.

Mrs. Steward, daughter of 141 East 36th street told of having Oliver Osborne as a boarder. He boarded with her as Mr. Bacon. Once the postman delivered a registered letter marked for Oliver Osborne. "Mr. Bacon" opened it and then wrote on it "Opened by mistake." Mrs. Dunham identified canes and hats of Oliver Osborne as having been exhibited by "Mr. Bacon."

The trial continues to-morrow morning in the United States District Court.

GIANT BABY NEEDS TWO BEDS.

Children's Society Worried by Prisoner Measuring 6 Feet 4.

Children's Society officials are having all kinds of trouble with fifteen-year-old Theodore Olsen, who stands six feet four inches in his socks. This young giant has not been found to find a bed in the place that will fit him. Since June 2 he has been sleeping in two beds, placed together with the cover pieces cut. Subterfuge has been discovered in making Theodore fit one of the children's bath tubs, or to find one to fit him. He is to stay at the society's rooms until June 27, on which day he has been recommended for sentence in the Children's Court.

Olsen was arrested June 2, after he had called the janitor of an apartment house at 202 West Seventy-eighth street to help him extinguish a blaze that he admitted he started in the dumbwaiter shaft. He says he had started five similar fires in the upper West side, but had always extinguished them himself, because his desire was not to see the engines dash by, but just to see the blaze.

Theodore left school because of the embarrassment caused by his abnormal size. He became a delivery boy for a grocer, and he says that after delivering an order on the dumbwaiter he would start a blaze at the bottom of the shaft among the old papers and other waste that he frequently would find there. Theodore lives with his parents at 411 Amsterdam avenue.

LEWIS ATTACKS GROUT APPEAL.

Kings Prosecutor Says He Chiefly Indulges in Abuse and Criticism.

District Attorney Lewis of Kings yesterday filed with the clerk of the Appellate Division his brief on the appeal taken by Edward M. Grout, convicted last July of perjury in swearing to an alleged false report of the financial status of the Union Bank while its president. The brief consists of 750 typewritten pages.

"Empty of merit is the appellant's claim of error," says the brief. "For he wholly failed to meet and explain solid facts irresponsibly provoking his guilt. He has, instead, indulged in bitter criticism. It is unfair to presume that because the appellant had no legal representation at the trial, he was entitled to a new trial."

Mr. Grout was convicted by a jury before the then Judge Lewis and sentenced to serve one to two years in Sing Sing. On April 15 Justice Scudder granted a certificate of reasonable doubt, saying the defendant had been tried for a crime for which he had never been indicted. Bail of $5,000 was granted.

YOUNG MOTHER SEEKS DEATH.

"Cursed" by Husband's Sister, She Fears Consequences.

Mrs. Fannie Miller, 24 years old, wife of Theodore Miller, fireman in Borough Park, tried to end her life yesterday at her home, 866 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, by inhaling gas through a tube and cutting her left wrist with a razor. She was found before she accomplished her purpose, and is in a critical condition at the Kings County Hospital.

Neighbors say that the young woman became desperate shortly after the birth of a child six weeks ago, through fear that she was not strong enough to rear the infant.

Before attempting suicide she wrote a note to her husband, in which she told him that his sister had "cursed" her and deprived her of the power to bring up her child.
